Police officer: I'm just going to ask you some questions. _____ were you on the 3rd of October?

Suspect: I was at a cafe in Greenwich.

Police officer: _____ were you with?

Suspect: I was alone, but an old friend from university was also there having lunch with her boyfriend and we talked for about five minutes.

Police officer: And _____ is their name?

Suspect: Joanna Crawley.

Police officer: _____ did you talk about?

Suspect: We hadn't seen each other in a few years so we were just catching up. She told me she is getting married and asked me what I was doing.

Police officer: _____ was this? In the morning or in the afternoon?

Suspect: It was at about one o'clock in the afternoon.

Police officer: And _____ were you having lunch at a café alone?

Suspect: Isn't that common?

Police officer: Answer the question !

Suspect: I was having lunch and working on an article. I'm a writer for a magazine.

Police officer: _____ magazine?

Suspect: House and home.

Police officer: Did you notice anything unusual while you were eating lunch?

Suspect: No. I go to that café often and it was the same as every other day.

Police officer: _____ time did you leave the café?

Suspect: At about two thirty.

Police officer: And _____ did you get home?

Suspect: I walked, I don't live far.

Police officer: Ok Madam. Thank you for your time.
